Also, that in the 4th section of the Act of Assembly, entitled "An Act relating to executions and for other purposes," approved April 16th, 1840, it is enacted that the aforesaid 13th section "shall not be so constructed as to prevent any militia or borough officer from serving as judge, or inspector or clerk of any general or special election in this Commonwealth."

By the Act of Assembly of 1869, known as the Registry Law, it is provided as follows:

1. "Election Officers are to open the polls between the hours of six and seven, A. M., on the day of election. Before six o'clock in the morning of second Tuesday of October they are to receive from the County Commissioners the Registered List of Voters and all necessary election blanks, and they are to permit no man to vote whose name is not on said list, unless he shall make proof of his right to vote as follows:

4. If the applicant be a naturalized citizen, he must, in addition to the foregoing proofs, state in his affidavit when, where, and by what court he was naturalized and produce his certificate of naturalization.

5. Every person, claiming to be a naturalized citizen, whether on the registry list, or producing affidavits as aforesaid, shall be required to produce his naturalization certificate at the election before voting, except where he has been for ten years consecutively a voter in the district where he offers to vote; and on the vote of such a person being received, the Election Officers are to write or stamp the word "voted" on his certificate with the month and year, and no other vote can be cast that day in virtue of said certificate except where sons are entitled to vote upon the naturalization of their father.

6. If the person claiming to vote who is not registered shall make an affidavit that he is a native born citizen of the United States, or, if born elsewhere, shall produce evidence of his naturalization, or that he is entitled to citizenship by reason of his father's naturalization, and further, that he is between 21 and 22 years of age, and has resided in the State one year, and in the election district ten days next preceding the election, he shall be entitled to vote though he shall not have paid taxes."

In accordance with the provision of the 8th section of an act entitled "A further supplement to the election Laws of this Commonwealth," I publish the following:

WHEREAS, By the act of the Congress of the United States, entitled "An Act to amend the several acts heretofore passed to provide for the enrolling and calling out of the national forces, and for other purposes," and approved March 3d, 1865, all persons who have deserted the military or naval services of the United States, and who have not been discharged or relieved from the penalty or disability therein provided, are deemed and taken to have voluntarily relinquished and forfeited their rights of citizenship and their rights to become citizens, and are deprived of exercising any rights of citizens thereof:

And whereas, Persons not citizens of the United States are not, under the Constitution and laws of Pennsylvania qualified electors of this Commonwealth.

SECTION 1 Be it enacted, &c., That in all elections hereafter to be held in this Commonwealth, it shall be unlawful for the judge or inspectors of any such elections to receive any ballot or ballots from any person or persons embraced in the provisions and subject to the disability imposed by said act of Congress, approved March 3d, 1865, and it shall be unlawful for any such person to offer to vote any ballot or ballots.

SEC. 2. That if any such judge and inspectors of election, or any one of them shall receive or consent to receive any such unlawful ballot or ballots from any such disqualified person, he or they so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof in any court of quarter session of this commonwealth; he shall for each offence, be sentenced to pay a fine not less than one hundred dollars, and to undergo an imprisonment in the jail of the proper county for not less than sixty days.

SEC. 3. That if any person deprived of citizenship, and disqualified as aforesaid, shall, at any election hereafter to be held in this commonwealth, vote, or tender to the officers thereof, and offer to vote, a ballot or ballots, any person so offending shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof in any court of quarter session of this commonwealth, shall for each offence be punished in like manner as is provided in the preceding section of this act in case of officers of election receiving any such unlawful ballot or ballots.

SEC. 4. That if any person shall hereafter pursuade or advise any person or persons, deprived of citizenship or disqualified as aforesaid, to offer any ballot or ballots to the officers of any election hereafter to be held in this Commonwealth, or shall pursuade, or advise, any such officer to receive any ballot, or ballots, from any person deprived of citizenship, and disqualified as aforesaid, such person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof in any court of quarter sessions of this Commonwealth, shall be punished in like manner as provided in the second section of this act in the case of officers of such election receiving such unlawful ballot or ballots.

Particular attention is directed to the first section of the Act of Assembly, passed the 30th day of March A. D. 1866, entitled "An Act regulating the manner of Voting at all Elections, in the several counties of this Commonwealth."

"That the qualified voters of the several counties of this Commonwealth, at all general, township, borough and special elections, are hereby, hereafter authorized and required to vote, by ticket, printed or written, or partly printed and partly written, severally classified as follows: One ticket shall embrace the names of all judges of courts voted for, and be labelled outside "judiciary;" one ticket shall embrace all the names of State officers voted for and be labelled "State;" one ticket shall embrace the names of all county officers voted for, including office of Senate, member and members of Assembly, if voted for, and members of Congress, if voted for, and labelled "county."

Pursuant to the provisions contained in the 67th section of the act aforesaid, the judges of the aforesaid district shall respectively take charge of the certificates or return of the election of their respective districts, and produce them at a meeting of one of the judges from each district at the Court House, in the borough of Huntingdon, on the third day after the day of election, being for the present year on FRIDAY, the 13th of OCTOBER, then and there to do and perform the duties required by law of said judges. Also, that where a judge by sickness or unavoidable accident, is unable to attend said meeting of judges, then the certificate or return aforesaid shall be taken in charge by one of the inspectors or clerks of the election of said district, and shall do and perform the duties required of said judge unable to attend.

Also, that in the 61st section of said act it is enacted that "every general and special election shall be opened between the hours of eight and ten in the forenoon, and shall continue without interruption or adjournment until seven o'clock in the evening, when the polls shall be closed."

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, }
HARRISBURG, PA. August 27, 1870. }

To the County Commissioners and Sheriff of the County of Huntingdon:

WHEREAS, The Fifteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States is as follows:

"SECTION 1. The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any State, on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude."

"SECTION 2. The Congress shall have powder to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

And whereas, The Congress of the United States, on the 31st day of March, 1870, passed an act, entitled "An Act to enforce the right of citizens of the United States to vote in the several States of this Union, and for other purposes," the first and second sections of which are as follows:

"SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That all citizens of the United States, who are, or shall be otherwise qualified by law to vote at any election by the people, in any State, Territory, district, county, city, parish, township, school district, municipality or other territorial sub-division, shall be entitled and allowed to vote at all such elections, without distinction of race, color, or previous condition of servitude; any Constitution, law, custom, usage, or regulation of any Territory, or by, or under its authority, to the contrary notwithstanding."

"SECTION 2. And be it further enacted, That if by or under the authority of the Constitution or laws of any State, or the laws of any Territory, any act is or shall be required to be done as a prerequisite or qualification for voting, and by such Constitution or law, persons or officers are or shall be charged with the performance of duties in furnishing to citizens an opportunity to perform such prerequisite, or to become qualified to vote, it shall be the duty of every such person and officer to give to all citizens of the United states the same and equal opportunity to perform such prerequisite, and become qualified to vote without distinction of race, color, or previous condition of servitude; and if any such person or officer shall refuse or knowingly omit to give full effect to this section, he shall, for every such offence, forfeit and pay the sum of five hundred dollars to the person aggrieved thereby, to be recovered by an action on the case, with full costs and such allowance for counsel fees as the court shall deem just, and shall also, for every such offence, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall on conviction thereof, be fined not less than five hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not less than one month and not more than one year, or both, at the discretion of the court."

And whereas, It is declared by the second section of the VIth article of the Constitution of the United States, that "This Constitution, and the laws of the United States, which shall be made in pursuance thereof, shall be the supreme law of the land, * * * * anything in the Constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding."

And whereas, The Legislature of this Commonwealth, on the 6th day of April, A. D. 1870, passed an act, entitled, "A further supplement to the act relating to elections in this Commonwealth," the tenth section of which provides as follows:

"SECTION 10. That so much of every act of Assembly as provides that only white freemen shall be entitled to vote, or be registered as voters, or as claiming to vote at any general or special election of this Commonwealth, be and the same is hereby repealed; and that hereafter all freemen, without distinction of color, shall be enrolled and registered according to the provision of the first section of the act approved seventeenth April, 1869, entitled "An Act further supplemental to the act relating to the elections of this Commonwealth," and when otherwise qualified under existing laws, be entitled to vote at all general and special elections in this Commonwealth."

And whereas, It is my constitutional and official duty to "take care that the laws be faithfully executed;" and it has come to my knowledge that sundry assessors and registers of voters have refused, and are refusing to assess and register divers colored male citizens of lawful age, and otherwise qualified as electors:

NOW, THEREFORE, In consideration of the premises, the county commissioners of said county are hereby notified and directed to instruct the several assessors and registers of voters therein, to obey and conform to the requirements of said constitutional amendment and laws; and the sheriff of said county is hereby authorized and required to publish in his election proclamation for the next ensuing elections, the herein recited constitutional amendment, act of Congress, and act of the Legislature, to the end that the same may be known, executed and obeyed by all assessors, registers of voters, election officers and others; and that the rights and privileges guaranteed thereby may be secured to all the citizens of this Commonwealth entitled to the same.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburg, the day and year first above written.

PRIVATE RESIDENCE FOR SALE.
Having gone into business at this place I propose to sell my private residence at Bedford, Pennsylvania, at private sale.

It is unnecessary for me to give a description of it to those who are acquainted with it, and to those who have not seen it, and who desire to purchase a neat and complete residence I would say go and examine it. The house was entirely overhauled and renovated but a year or two ago. It is located upon a full lot of ground, 60 feet by 240, on East Pitt street, and the corner of an alley leading to the Steam Mill, which makes it one of the most public places in the town in a business point of view. The lot is under drained by numerous drains, and is second to none in the place. It has produced all the garden vegetables used by my family for years. In addition there is a flower garden and a considerable quantity of excellent fruit. There is a perpetual insurance upon the house.

Address me at Huntingdon or Bedford, Pa.

"If We Would."

If we would but check the speaker,
When he spoils a neighbor's fame;
If we would but help the erring,
Ere we utter words of blame;
If we would, how many might we Turn from paths of sin and shame?

Ah, the wrongs that might be righted,
If we would but see the way;
Ah, the pains that might be brightened,
Every hour and every day,
If we would not hear the pleadings
Of the hearts that go astray.

Let us step outside the stronghold
Of our selfishness and pride;
Let us lift our fainting brothers,
Let us strengthen ere we chide;
Let us ere we blame the fallen,
Hold a light to cheer and guide.

Ah! how blessed—ah! how blessed
Earth would be if we but try
Thus to aid and right the weaker,
Thus to check each brother's sigh;
Thus to walk in duty's pathway
To our better life on high.

In each life however lowly,
There are seeds of mighty good;
Still we shrink from souls appealing
With a timid "if we can,"
But God, who judgeth all things,
Knows the truth is, "If we would."

The Story-Teller.

How the Deacon was Sold.

"He never shall have you, Letty—leastwise, if I can prevent it. A city dandy like him, indeed! I'd just as lief you'd marry Dan Blecker, the idiot, as to become the wife of that popinjay."

And Deacon Merriam deliberately tipped back his chair against the side of the house, or rather against the door of the sink-room—a habit that was a favorite one with him—and seemed to regard the case as settled.

Letty began to cry a little, then thought better of it, and, drying her eyes grew rapidly indignant.

"He isn't a popinjay!" she said. "He's as good as anybody, and a deal sight better than Peter Bridge, if you did but know it."

Peter Bridge was her father's favorite, a steady well-to-do young farmer though people did say he was a trifle parsimonious.

"Well, I don't know it, and nobody else don't either!" he cried angrily. "Peter Bridge is a king to him, and has got four times the money, to say nothing of the old Bridge farm, that is worth five thousand, if it is worth a dollar. I'll tell ye Letty, a gal could do much worse than to marry Peter Bridge."

"And much better, I hope," said Letty. "At any rate I shall try, for I wouldn't wipe my slippers on Peter Bridge."

"Well, as I said before, you never shall marry Ross Harding," snapped Deacon Marriam grimly; 'so that's the end on't. And if you won't have Peter, why you can be an old maid, I suppose."

"I shall not do either. I have promised already to be Ross Harding's wife, and have no intention of breaking my word—so there!" And then astonished at her own temerity, burst into tears.

The deacon sat silent a moment. In all his life he never encountered a spirit quite so rebellious as this.

"I never!" he cried, and in his dismay endeavored to regain the perpendicular. But his chair was tilted back so far that it required some exertion to do this; and giving a spring the door against which he was leaning flew open, and over he went amongst the pots and kettles, and down came a pail of dirty water upon his devoted head.

We are afraid the deacon made use of expressions that would be wicked for even a sinner to utter. He rattled around some time before he succeeded in getting upon his feet, and when that difficult operation was accomplished, his features resembled those of an Indian chief with the war-paint on. The wife and daughter fairly screamed with laughter.

"Hush up!" he exclaimed. "It's a pretty time, if I'm to be made a laughing stock of in my own house. I won't endure it."

"Just look in the glass," said Letty.

The deacon sniffled, but he looked as suggested, and the sight did not improve his temper a particle.

"So you will marry Ross Harding?" he asked.

"Yes, father."

"You won't Miss Disobedience. I'll put a lock on the door of your room, and keep you on bread and water. I'll put iron bars before the windows, and not let you write a word to communicate with him."

"But I am eighteen," cried Letty, turning as red as a peony.

"I don't care if you are eighty-one! No daughter of mine shall marry a fool! And he's a fool, if there ever was one."

The deacon was as good as his word regarding the lock. He had one put on the door of her room, and Letty became a prisoner. Then he told Ross Harding that he never should have Letty.

"Why not?" asked Ross quite coolly.

"She never shall marry an idiot!"

Ross smiled.

"Look here, old gentleman, if you weren't to be my father in-law, I'd make you ask my pardon for that little speech. As it is, I suppose I'll have to consider upon it instead."

"And if I wasn't a deacon I'd teach you better things, you puppy."

And with that the deacon hurried off to the blacksmith's shop for the iron bars to be placed over Letty's windows.

"A fool, am I?" Ross Harding muttered, after he was gone "We'll see old gentleman; the case is by no means decided. Perhaps there are bigger fools in this world than I, and one of them may be a deacon. I like Letty and she likes me, and I'm not going to give her up without a struggle of some kind."

So he sat down and wrote this quixotic letter:

DEAR TOM:—You once said that you would oblige me by giving me half of your fortune, if I would accept it. I told you I would accept the will for the deed (for I knew it was nothing but foolish enthusiasm in you to offer to pay me for doing my duty by dragging you out of the river), but now if you simply transfer the whole of your bank stock to my credit for a few days, it would be a great accommodation. I pledge you my word that I will return every cent of it within a month."

And then he signed and sealed it, and sent it away to the post office.

Three days later he walked into the office of Squire Merriam, the deacon's brother, told him that he wished to obtain his advice.

"In what respect?" demanded the squire.

"The investment of money. My property is mostly in bank stock, and I wish to invest a portion of it in something else. What would you advise?"

"I would prefer to see your certificates of stock as a preliminary," dryly observed the squire.

Out came pocket books and memorandums, and sufficient stock was accounted for to amount to thirty thousand dollars. The deacon's brother began to rub his eyes.

"By Jove!" he said to himself—he wasn't a deacon, you know—"if he has got that much money old Reuben is making a fool of himself. I'll put a flea in his ear forthwith."

Then turning to Ross, he added aloud: "I'd put it in real estate, young man— I'd put it in real estate"

Ross handed him ten dollars and left the office. And before night deacon Merriam was posted.

Off came the lock and key, and the iron bars, having never been put on, were stowed away, with other old rubbish, in a hurry.

The next day Ross ventured to call, and the warm reception he met was a great surprise to Letty, who never had known her father to relent before. She held her peace, however, and did not allude to it after he was gone.

Her father did.

"I've changed my mind, Letty," he said. "I've heard something about Ross Harding that has convinced me he is not so bad as I thought him. Young people will be young people, and if you wish to marry him, forget what I said."

But he did not tell her what he had heard.

Of course the deacon's objection removed, it was all smooth water, and Ross drove his wooing so furiously, that in three weeks they were married.

Then her husband explained his artifice to her, fearing that she had been deceived, but her father had never told her what had changed his sentiments. And instead of blaming him, she kissed him and called him a dear, nice fellow.

In a week the deacon began to talk bank-stock.

"It don't trouble me," said Ross, with a laugh.

"Don't trouble you! Haven't you thirty thousand dollars invested in bank-stock?" thundered his father in-law.

"No sir—nor thirty cents."

The deacon said something that deacons are not supposed to utter.

"What has become of the wealth you showed my brother?" he asked.

"Oh, that was borrowed for the occasion," said Ross quietly. "I returned it as soon as I had accomplished my purpose. You called me a fool once, and I vowed to be even with you, as I rather think I am."

If the deacon prayed that night more fervently than usual, it was because he had a terrible struggle with Old Adam within him.

After all Ross Harding did not make a bad son-in-law. And when he got to own one half Cedarvale, the deacon forgave him entirely.

Miscellaneous.

Swear Not at All.

"Well, do you think Sunday-school teachers swear?"

"No, my friend, but many of their scholars do; and a large number of these scholars who are now pure mouthed, will learn the vile habit, unless they are early principled against it."

It is now as it was in Jeremiah's time, "because of swearing the land mourneth."

The ear is shocked at every turn with the profanity which fills the air.

Even little children utter the most horrid oaths; and probably nine out of ten of the adults who take God's name in vain, learned to do it when they were young.

A young man who lives to be twenty-one without uttering a profane word is not likely to acquire the low and wicked habit afterwards.

A somewhat eccentric old lady walking the streets of New York, once overheard two boys swearing. She approached them and said:

"Boys, my sight is poor. Lead me across the street, and here are a few pennies for you."

The boys were willing, and carefully conducted the old lady over and received their pay. Then followed a short lecture which probably was never forgotten by those who heard it.

"Boys, my name is Cooke; when you feel like swearing say Cooke. That won't hurt me or you. Say Cooke just as often as you please. But, boys, never take the holy name of God in vain, for it is a very useless and wicked habit, and will be severely punished."

Sabbath-school teachers, and especially you who teach boys, you should not wait until you hear the oath. Explain fully to your class the folly and sinfulness of this crime. Show them from the Bible how positively and frequently it is forbidden, and why.

It would be well once a year to present this subject fully to the minds of the boys, and illustrate and enforce its importance; and frequently, as the opportunity is afforded, it should be adverted to.

Would it not be a good thing to pledge the lads in their tender years never to swear?

It would be much easier to do this than to cure them of the habit in manhood, when it is formed.

This is one of Satan's favorite devices. By profanity he has dragged many a precious soul into his snare.

Oh, teachers, those beautiful boys are in danger. Warn them.

You look at them, and they seem so innocent and pure you can hardly imagine they will change. Yet those young hearts in the future may be filled with wickedness, and those mouths utter blasphemy. Now is your time to sow the good seed before Satan has his crop growing, and ready to gather in.

If you get ahead of this enemy you must be active, earnest and prompt.—Sunday-School Times.

I ACCEPT the Bible, not for what it claims to be, but for what I find it to be— "a lamp to my feet and a light to my pathway." If one should accept it on its own claims, or because it has been wonderfully preserved, might he not with almost equal propriety receive the Koran, or even the book Mormon on the same grounds? For they both set up wonderful claims of infallibility and of inspiration, and I am sure that I say it out of no more prejudice of education, they are worse than trash— the very essence of fraud and folly. On the contrary, I find the Bible, not an "infallible book," but a revelation of a living Christ, who is the light of the world and the Savior of sinners.—Asa W. Coan.

The Art of Giggling.

Giggling girls constitute a large number of the sex termed, with more gallantry than justice, in these days of "woman's rights," fair. They are conspicuous, oddly enough, more by the absence of any monstrous vice than by the presence of any infinitesimal virtue. Such specimens you meet with everywhere; they cannot be limited peacably or forcibly; and are distinguished by a class peculiarity—they giggle. The phrase, we confess, is somewhat untranslatable, for it is an etymological nudity and absolutely meaningless. The art of giggling is more readily explained, for its picturesque in it is abruptness, scientific in development, fascinating in delivery, and graceful at the death.

Giggling, according to Webster, is a "kind of laugh with short catches of the voice and breath." The bareness of the definition is only equalled by its unintelligibility. The better plan to understand the word and its action is to personally encounter a giggler, and she will elaborately display, in all its elegance of outline and simplicity of detail, the beauty and quality of the giggle. The omnipresence of the giggler saves a deal of trouble; so, without delay, you plunge in medias res. You wish her good day. She smiles. Inquire after her health. Another smile. Hope her parents are well. The smile lengthens. Emboldened at your favorable reception, although in doubt as to what has caused the repeated smiles, you cough a little, and, with an air of the deepest interest, ask her opinion of the latest drama at Wallack's. She smirks in reply. Does she admire Hamlet! A faint titter is the response. Perchance now you venture the perfectly truthful remark that it looks like rain, and that if it rains it will be wet. At once you have evolved out of the depths of her inner consciousness a genuine giggle. Watch its appearance in its three stages of development, a la Comte, birth, maturity, decay—and spectroscope the result with your pen for the benefit of science.

The giggle commences at the mouth with certain twitches in the neighborhood of that organ. The lips part, the teeth— mute witnesses of the dentist's skill—are exposed to view. The teeth unclasp, and, snake-like, the tongue appears coiled up in the background. Next, the head is slightly arched and the eyes slowly close. At the eyes, then, the giggle matures. The eyes close in earnest, the nostrils dilate, and for a time giggles play about the ravishing nose, like lightning about a mountain peak. The fascinating face becomes corrugated with twinkles, and shows as many lines of beauty—in the Hogarthian vein—as an india rubber head stretched to an angle of 45 degrees. At this stage, the giggler is supposed, by herself, to be bewitching; and so, to heighten the effect and the general enchantment, there then is a reduplicated fluttering of the wand-like fan, a depression of the head, and an inclination of the form. The third period of development is now ushered in. The giggles begin to grow beautifully less, a fierce conflict arises between the centrifugal and centripetal forces, the convulsions become more and more refined, the giggles shorten, eyes open, teeth shut, mouth closes—and the giggle is over.—Aldine for September.

Grains of Gold.

A day of idleness tires more than a week of work.

Love looks not with the eyes, but with the mind.

Right is a dull weapon, unless skill and good sense wield it.

The man who never made a mistake, never made a discovery.

Those who praise you in the beginning, will ask favors in the end.

Physic, for the most part, is but a substitute for exercise or temperance.

Vanity is of much greater consideration with people generally than utility.

Opinions founded upon mere prejudice are always sustained with the greatest violence.

Pride is increased by ignorance; those who assume the most are those who usually know the least.

Genius has limits; virtue has none; every one pure and good can become purer and better still.

The cultivation of the moral nature in man is the grand means for the improvement of society.

That conduct sometimes seems ridiculous; the secret reasons of which may perhaps be wise and solid.

A mind too active and vigorous wears away the body, as the finest jewels do soonest wear their settings.

We often omit the good we might do in consequence of thinking about that which is out of our power to do.

There is no one so innocent as not to be evil spoken of, there is no one so wicked as to merit all condemnation.

Duty and Safety.—It is one of the worst of errors to suppose that there is any other path of safety except that of duty.

Every heart has its secret sorrow, which the world knows not, and oftentimes we call a man cold when he was only sad.

A promise should be given with caution and kept with care. It should be made with the heart and remembered by the head.

Day and night yield us contrary blessings, and at the same time assist each other, by giving fresh lustre to the delights of both.

There are men who, by long consulting only their own inclinations, have forgotten that others have a claim to the same deference.

Truthfulness is a copper stone in character; and if it be not firmly laid in youth, there will always be a weak spot in the foundation.

Memory is a patient camel, bearing huge burdens over life's sandy desert. Intuition is a bird of Paradise, drinking in the aroma of celestial flowers.

Temper.—Every human creature is sensible to some infirmities of temper, which it should be his care to correct and subdue, particularly in the early period of his life.

Measure of Happiness.—It is a great blunder in the pursuit of happiness not to know that we have got it; that is, not to be content with a reasonable and possible measure of it.

Improvement of mind.—The improvement of the understanding is for two ends —first, our own increase of knowledge; secondly, to enable us to deliver and make out that knowledge to others.

Prudence.—Be more prudent for your children than, perhaps, you have been for yourself. When they, too, are parents, they will imitate you, and each of you will have prepared happy generations, who will transmit, together with your memory, the worship of your wisdom.

A Rat Story.

A story, which we believe has never been in print before, and which is well worth the hearing, comes to us through private sources, teoncerning Elliot, the well-known portrait painter of New York, late deceased. Elliot, like many other erratic children of genius, had perenial attacks of what they term "spreeing," now-a-days.— At such times he would go over to Brooklyn and be invisible for a week or two, coming back the ghost of his former self, unnerved and exhausted. Upon one occasion, after his return from such a jaunt, several of his friends determined, if possible, to put a stop to this procedure, and so went down to his studio, carrying in a pocket a big rat, for purposes which will be seen. Elliot sat painting, lazily returning to his work after he had greeted his visitors. They took him to task roundly for his dissipation, declaring that his health was utterly ruined, and that another such turn would drive him into "snakes," otherwise called delirium tremens. They pressed the topic, when finally he arose in a passion, and as he did so the rat was slipped loose, and went flying among the half-finished pictures. Elliot gave chase with a cane, calling loudly for assistance, knowing that if uncaught, the animal would work mischief with his canvas. Not hearing the others move, he looked around with astonishment, and shuddered visibly as he saw them looking at him with faces full of sadness and pity. They tried to get him to sit down, saying that he'd "get over it pretty soon;" but he shook them off and went silently back to his painting. After a few touches he stopped and turned round, with an attempt to laugh that was inexpressibly painful, and broke out: "That's a good joke on you fellows. I didn't see any rat."

For the Little Folks.

To Baby Kathleen Mary.

BY REV. JOHN MONSELL, LL. D.

Little baby prattle,
Little baby play,
Little baby rattle,
On in thy bright way;
Though but pretty nonsense
It to some may prove,
Seems it not in one sense
Wisdom from above?

Thou to heaven art nearer
Than most things on earth,
Dear by nature, dearer
Through thy second birth;
Thou, as with God's presence,
Homes and hearts dost fill,
All the bright world's pleasance
Fresh around thee still.

Full of golden gleanings
From thine upper home,
Full of broken dreamings
Of the days to come;
Without one misgiving
Shadow upon thee,
Pure, as if still living
In God's purity.

Life with soft pulsations
Sets thee all aglow;
Endless imitations
Of the life below.
Fill thy days with beauty,
Haunt thy dreams with care,
Sunlights from the duty
Wilt thou one day share.

He whose love redeemed thee
From the primal fall,
Tenderly esteemed thee,
Teaching for us all;
Who would for His holy
Presence become meet,
Must sit down most lowly
Baby, at thy feet.

Teach us to be gentle,
Teach us to be pure,
Chastisement parental,
Teach us to endure;
Though he must deny us,
Steadfast to believe;
Trusting though he try us,
Loving, though he grieve.

And least aught unsightly
Fall from us on thee,
Taint thee though so slightly,
Spoil thy purity,
In His love to rear thee
Pure and undefiled,
To Him to endear thee—
Help us, holy child!

Little baby, hie thee
Off my child and play,
The God baby by thee
Watch from day to day,
Prattle on, beside thee
Is this changeless love,
'Twill one day provide thee
Wisdom from above.

Truthful and Obedient.

"Charlie! Charlie!" Clear and sweet as a note struck from a silvery bell, the voice rippled over the common.

"That's mother," cried one of the boys, and he instantly threw down his bat, and picked up his jacket and cap.

"Don't go yet!" "Have it out!" "Finish the game!" "Try it again!" cried the players in a noisy chorus.

"I must go—right off—this minute. I told her I'd come whenever she called."

"Make her believe you didn't hear!" they all exclaimed.

"But I did hear."

"She won't know you did."

"But I know it, and—"

"Let him go," said a bystander. "You can't do anything with him. He's tied to his mother's apron strings."

"That's so," said Charley; "and it's to what every boy ought to be tied; and in a hard knot, too."

"But I wouldn't be such a baby as to run the minute she called," said one.

"I don't call it babyish to keep one's word to his mother," answered the obedient boy, a beautiful light glowing in his blue eyes. "I call that manly; and the boy who don't keep his word to her will never keep it to any one else—you see if he does!" and he hurried away to his cottage home.

Thirty years have passed since those boys played on the common. Charles Gray is now a prosperous business man in a great city, and his merchantile friends say of him, that "his word is as good as his bond." We asked him once how he had acquired such a reputation.

"I never broke my word when a boy, no matter how great the temptation, and the habit formed then has clung to me through life."—Child's Delight.

The Two Schemers.

A FABLE—BY UNCLE FRANK.

There was once a crab, who was very cunning in setting traps. He used to bury himself in the mud, just under a nice piece of a clam or an oyster; and when the silly fish came to make a dinner of his dainty morsel, he would catch him in his claws and eat him. He pretended to have a good deal of honor, though. He was, indeed, quite a pious crab, himself being judge. When he caught a fish by his cunning, he used to say, "Poor fellow! 'tis his own fault, not mine. He should have kept out of the trap. If one don't know enough to keep out of my claws, he ought to be caught. Poor fellow! I'm sorry for him; but I don't see how it can be helped." This you see was very comforting to the crab, though it didn't help the case of the poor perch. It was, in fact, intended for the advantage of the crab, and for nobody else. That was the way he took to quiet his conscience, and to excuse his conduct to others, when they complained of it.

An old fox happened, one day, to be walking near the sea-shore, soon after the crab had caught a nice fish by his cunning. Now foxy was a schemer too. He was, indeed, a schemer by trade; and no sooner had he seen the crab's exploit, and heard the rather ludicrous apology which he made for it, than he set his own cunning at work to outwit the crab. "Let's see," said he. "How shall I manage that thing?" And he pondered the matter over for some minutes. "Aha!" he excaimed, at length, "I have it!" and immediately he went to work to put his plan in execution. He went down to the sea-shore, one day, and thrust his long bushy tail into the edge of the water. The crab presuming he had got another dinner by his wit, seized the fox's tail with his claws. But the fox, giving a sudden spring, brought the crab out of the water, and immediately prepared to make a meal of him. At this act of treachery, his crabship complained bitterly. He accused the fox of being a deceitful fellow, and a murderer to boot.

"Stop," said Reynard. "Not so fast. I have only acted according to your own rule. If one does not know enough to keep away from such a paltry trap as a fox's tail, he ought to be caught. It is, indeed, the same thing as if he caught himself."

"Ah," said the crab, with a deep sigh, "I made that rule for others, and not for myself. I see now that there's a flaw in it."

A Boy's Logic.

A little boy in Leicester was induced to sign the Band of Hope pledge. His father was a collector, and one day a publican called upon him for the purpose of paying his rates. In the course of conversation, it came out that the little boy was a teetotaler.

"What!" said the publican, with a sneer, "a mere boy like that a teetoler?"

"Yes, sir," said the boy, "I am one."

"And you mean to say you have signed the pledge?"

"Yes, sir, I have, and mean to keep it, too."

"Nonsense!" said the publican. "The idea! Why, you are too young to sign the pledge."

The little fellow came up to him, took hold of him quietly by the arm, and repeated his words: "You say, sir, I am too young to be a teetoler?"

"Yes, I do."

"Well, now, sir, please listen," said he. "I will just ask you a question: you are a publican, are you not, and sell beer?"

"Yes, I am a publican, and sell beer."

"Well, then, suppose I come to your house for a pint of beer, would you send me about my business because I am so young?"

"Oh! no," said Boniface; "that is quite a different thing."

"Very well, then," said the noble little fellow, with triumph in his face; "if I am not too young to fetch the beer, I am not too young to give up the beer."

The publican was defeated; he didn't want to argue with that boy again.

A Boy's Faith.

One of the most beautiful illustrations of believing prayer which I have ever known, was furnished the other day by a little boy some four years old. His grandparents were talking about the drought.

"Yes," said the grandmother, "my flowers will all be burnt up, and we shall have no strawberries."

Little Bozzy listened with deep interest, but said nothing. A few minutes afterward he was seen kneeling in one corner of the room, with his hands to his face, and was overheard praying thus: "O Lord! send down rain, so that grandma's flowers shan't be burnt up, and so we shall have plenty of strawberries."

He then arose and came to his grandmother, saying:

"Your flowers won't burn up, grandma. We are going to have rain."

"How do you know?"

"Oh!" said little Bozzy, "I have been praying for it, and it will come." He seemed to have no doubt of it.

The next morning the first thing the little fellow did, when he came down stairs, was to go to the back door and open it to see if it rained. According to his prediction, the rain was falling upon the thirsty flowers and the perishing berries. As soon as he saw it, he joyously shouted! "It's come, it's come. I knew it would! I prayed for it."

Good Advice.

Never shirk your duties, however low and mean they seem to you. Remember that you do as well as ever you can what happens to be the only thing within your power to do, is the best and surest preparation for higher service. Should things go against you, never give way to debilitating depression; but be hopeful, brave, courageous, careful not to waste in vain and unavailing regret the power you will need for endurance and endeavor. Learn well your business, whatever it may be; make the best of every opportunity for acquiring any sort of knowledge that may enlarge your acquaintance with business generally, and enable you to take advantage of any offer or opening that may come. Above all things, remember that character is essential to success in life, and that that character is the best which is real and thorough—true and genuine to the core— which has nothing underlying it of the consciousness of secret sin; which is pure and unspotted as it is thought to be, and the moral and manly virtues of which are based upon and inspired by a religious faith—by that love and fear of God which at once preserve from "great transgressions" and prompt to the cultivation of every personal and social virtue.

Republican Mass Meeting.

READ! READ!! READ!!!

California Sends Greetings to Maine!

Connecticut in the East Speaks to North Carolina in the South!

NEW MEXICO, WYOMING AND COLORADO, Catch up the grand chorus for the Union, and in every State where the People have spoken through the Ballot-box, they have vindicated the Great Party, that saved the Nation from destruction by traitors; gave Liberty to all Sections; defeated Repudiation; built the Pacific Railroad; established a National Currency; secured Pensions and Homesteads for Union Soldiers; reduced the National Debt over $100,000,000 in one year; and is the Party of Freedom and Progress the world over. The Republicans of Huntingdon County, may keep step to the music of the Union, there will be a MASS MEETING, held in HUNTINGDON, PA., on THURSDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 5TH, 1871, to be addressed by the eloquent GEN. L. K. PANGBORN, of N. J., HON. JOHN SCOTT, and other distinguished speakers from a distance.

Night trains on the Penn'a. R. R., will stop at all way stations going east and west.

To the Republicans of Huntingdon County.

The approaching election is one of very great importance, and its results will have a telling effect upon the still more vital contest of next year.

The tide is in our favor. The people of CALIFORNIA and MAINE have greeted each other across this mighty continent, and the Great Party which saved the Nation from the hordes of treason has been again vindicated at the ballot box. In view of these things, I appeal to the earnest Republicans, and especially to the members of the County Committee, in every township and borough throughout the County, to SEE TO IT AT ONCE that arrangements are made to have every Republican voter out on the day of the election. If necessary, have conveyances sent, early in the day, for those who are unable to walk to the polls.

NO BUSINESS, HOWEVER IMPORTANT, SHOULD BE ALLOWED TO KEEP A REPUBLICAN at HOME on the day of the ELECTION.

A man who voluntarily stays at home on that day, and loses his vote, is not fit to enjoy the right of suffrage.

Let voters remember that THEY control the Government of this country; and if bad men get into office, it is their fault.

Last year a Democratic member of Congress was elected from this District because a large number of Republicans did not go to the election and vote. TWELVE REPUBLICAN VOTES WOULD HAVE CHANGED THE RESULT.

A Democratic State Senator was elected from this District, and the Senate of Pennsylvania was thereby made Democratic, because the Republicans of Huntingdon County did not go to the Election.

See to it then, that no township or borough suffers a single voter to remain away from the polls, and lose his vote, on the 10th day of October next.

Have men appointed to stand at the polls all day and see that no illegal voting is done—CHALLENGE FREELY, if necessary; timidity at the polls may lose the day.

WATCH FOR SPLIT TICKETS, that is a favorite game with the Democrats, THEY WILL TRY TO GET REPUBLICANS TO CUT THE TICKET ON THE PRESIDENT JUDGE AND LEGISLATURE. DON'T BE DECEIVED OR CHEATED BY THEM. VOTE THE WHOLE TICKET. LET NO COMPLIMENTARY VOTES be given to Democrats; they will LAUGH at you afterwards for being so easily deceived.

Examine your ballots before depositing them, and see that ALL the names are correst.

Get your tickets from good men—men who will not deceive you.

Republicans, remember that the very men who were the out-spoken enemies of the Government when Traitors threatened its life, are the same who now unblushingly ask your votes that they may be foisted into power as law-makers and Rulers for you If they and their armed friends in the south had succeeded in their efforts only a few years ago, our institutions and liberties would have been swept away by war; if they succeed now at the ballot box, the brave soldiers of the Union who fell with their faces to the foe, in that grand struggle against treason, have shed their life blood in vain.

Shall we dishonor their memory by basely surrendering the great issues for which they fell? No! Let us emulate their sublime devotion to principle, and a glorious triumph awaits us.

K. ALLEN LOVELL,
Ch'n. Rep. Co. Committee.

Huntingdon, Pa., Sep. 30th.

The Slanders of the Monitor.

It Admits that Gen. Lane does not Owe the County, the State nor his Bail a Single Dollar.

A HARMLESS SCARE-CROW!

As an evidence of the desperate straits to which the rebel-loving Democracy of this county are driven, and the unscrupulous means to which they are willing to resort, in order to save a sinking cause, we have only to refer our readers to the last two issues of the Monitor. We showed most conclusively, in our last issue, that the attack made upon Gen. Lane was a malicious falsehood, manufactured for the occasion, by publishing a plain, unvarnished and truthful statement of the whole affair, which that paper has not dared to answer or deny, but simply contents itself by reiterating the stale falsehood.

We simply ask our readers, all who think worth while to go to that trouble, to take the statement of the Monitor itself, and see if it does not furnish one of the best evidences that Gen. Lane, in the case referred to, acted the part of an honest, upright and conscientious man. That a balance was found against him, in favor of the State, at the close of his term as Treasurer of the county, no one denies, and we have already shown how it came to be there, as well as the necessary legal steps taken by Mr. Lane to defend himself against a claim which was manifestly unjust. Instead of remaining at home to test its validity, however, he entered the Union army with thousands of his brave-hearted countrymen, and marched, at the roll-call of Freedom, to the rescue of an imperilled Government, there to seal his devotion to the glorious standard of our common country on many a hard-fought battle-field, while Mr. Africa, his opponent, was at home doing service for his rebel friends, on this side of the line, by denouncing the war as an "ABOLITION RAID," our gallant soldiers as "LINCOLN'S HIRELINGS," and the battle-fields of Freedom as "LINCOLN'S SLAUGHTER PENS."

That judgment was obtained against him, under the circumstances, and the amount paid by Gen. Wilson, one of his sureties, is not denied, but that Mr. Lane was a defaulter, or an embezzler, of public money, or that he allowed his bail to suffer, we think is manifestly susceptible of contradiction, even by the Monitor's own statement, and the author of that article is evidently very much at fault in citing a section of the penal code which was not in existence at the time. Gen. Lane was clearly in no danger of a criminal prosecution, and never has been since, and if any such threats were made by General Wilson, as the Monitor alleges, they proceeded from other motives.

But we would only say, in conclusion, to the legal and honorable gentlemen who do the dirty work, why is it that the money was paid? Gen. Lane, you say, was "utterly insolvent," and of course was not obliged to pay, and no lawyer will pretend to say that he was in any danger of a criminal prosecution. Can there then, be any other motive assigned for the refunding of that money to Gen. Wilson, inside of five days from the time it was paid, other than that which would actuate any high minded and honorable man in paying voluntarily an unjust debt rather than see his bail suffer! Until these questions are answered we will ask our readers to accept the statement made by the Monitor as satisfactory evidence of Mr. Lane's honesty, and so conclude.

It requires an ingenious falsifier to always make both ends of a story correspond, and like the man who ran the deer into the snow bank and caught it, in harvest, we fear that the Monitor scribblers have got their story mixed up so badly as to be able to explain it on no other hypothesis when subjected to the crucible of reason and common sense.

The entire amount, including interest and costs, was refunded to his bail inside of five days from the payment thereof, and his receipt taken for the same, and this too by a man who the Monitor declares was "utterly insolvent" and without any real estate, and who was in no danger of any criminal prosecution.

The amount of legal ability displayed by the author of that statement, strikes us as not being very creditable. Had he, good, honest soul that he is, examined the record at Harrisburg, a few pages from the statement he garbled to suit his own purpose, he might have found evidence of other defaulting public officers, with the claim still unliquidated.

John Mierley, Esq.

We notice an article under this head, in the last issue of the Monitor, which states that Mr. Mierley is not an office seeker in any sense of the term, and that "he scorns the political trickster and would not wallow in the mire in which his competitor lives and grows fat." Now this seems strange, indeed, when we take into consideration that scarcely a Republican can be found that he has not solicited to vote for him with all the imploring sympathy of a hound pup with his foot in a steel trap. It is truly a wonder that so pure a man would allow one of "Lincoln's hirelings" to vote for him! And as for him being "no mere reflector," we differ in that, for never was Jeff. Davis' character more truthfully reflected during the war, than through John Mierley!—Think of his war record, Republicans, and take as an indignity all of his palavering and begging of your votes. Go to the polls and vote for Judge Clarkson, who is his equal in every respect, and a sound Republican, and instead of his holding office so long being an objection, he needs no better recommendation. And, further remember, not a Republican in the county would the immaculate Mierley vote for were they before the people for a county office. Vote the whole ticket and nothing but the ticket!

☞ Every vote for the Radical ticket is a full vote for the man who quit selling rum only since he was nominated for office by the Republican party.—Monitor.

And every vote for the Democratic ticket is one for the man who quit drinking it only since he was nominated for office by the Democratic party.

☞ Stay at the polls until dark!

Gen. Lane's Treasuryship!

He Saves Tax-Payers $6,400!

The Matter in a Nut Shell!

Gen. Lane, the Monitor admits, PAID EVERY DOLLAR, and MORE THAN HE OUGHT TO HAVE PAID. Why, then, this hellabaloo? Oh, but he didn't pay over immediately upon his retirement from office, and consequently, he is an EMBEZZLER and DEFAULTER! Indeed! Gen. Lane was charged with the percentage on a valuation of $800,000 more than was collected in the county, and if he paid, he would have been obliged to PAY OUT OF HIS OWN POCKET. He refused to settle until the State corrected her account. Was not this right? The PEOPLE EXPECTED HIM TO STAND BETWEEN THEM AND THE EXTRAORDINARY DEMANDS OF THE STATE, and by so doing he saved the county $6,400! Because if Gen. Lane had not resisted the unreasonable demands of the State, but quietly acquiesced, paid over the money and said nothing about it, the mistake would never have been discovered, and the tax-payers of Huntingdon county would have been SWINDLED, CHEATED out of SIX THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS! This is the plain English of this transaction. Farmers, Tax-payers, are you going to vote against the man who, by dogged persistence, saved you $6,400!

"NO!" we hear you thunder from one end of the line to the other! Then vote for Lane!

The President Judgeship.

A word to those of our Republican friends who are weighing the question of voting for Judge Taylor instead of Mr. Dean. We have not concealed the fact of our personal regard for Judge Taylor, and we therefore think it our duty to offer a word of advice to those who entertain the same feelings. From all we can learn, from our exchanges, and from well informed persons, of both parties, all over the district, we are convinced the regular nominees, Mr. Dean and Mr. Banks, will receive the support of the great mass of their respective parties, leaving Judge Taylor, the independent candidate, without any reasonable prospect of even coming near an election. This being the case why should Huntingdon county Republicans throw away their votes, and aid in electing Mr. Banks.

Admitting that Mr. Dean and Mr. Banks are both respectable lawyers of Blair county, why should any Republican, of this county, adopt a course which is calculated to elect a Democrat to office, while it does the man they wish to serve no earthly good? We trust our Republican friends will take a calm and dispassionate view of this matter, and find it a pleasure, as well as a duty, to cast a solid, undivided vote for the regular ticket.

☞ Get out every vote!

Gen. Lane the Tax-payers' Friend!

Gen. Lane saved the tax-payers, by his efforts to have the State correct her account, SIX THOUSAND FOUR HUNDRED DOLLARS! This is no small item. To do this he was obliged to stand the State a suit, and when his bail was pushed he paid every dollar! Wasn't this manly? Did any person lose anything? But it is not alleged that any one did. Oh, no! But he used the State's money for several years!! Suppose he did, he believed that he did not owe the State anything, and until the State showed that he did he had a perfect right to use the money; any respectable lawyer knows this to be the case. It was not until after he retired from office that a prosecution and a penalty was enacted for withholding funds of this kind. This being the case no honest lawyer will say that he violated any statute. And yet the Monitor has charged this man with Embezzlement and Perjury. Such conduct is infamous!

REPUBLICAN MEETINGS.

Enthusiastic meetings have been held at Shade Gap, Orbisonia, Scottsville, Cassville, Green's School House, Broad Top City, Marklesburg, Alexandria, Birmingham, Warriorsmark, Spruce Creek, Shirleysburg, McAlevy's Fort, and Green Tree, which have been addressed by Hon. W. S. Johnston, of Washington, D. C., Prof. A. L. Guss, Theo. H. Cremer, Esq., T. W. Myton, Esq., J. R. Simpson, Esq., G. B. Armitage, Esq., J. Sylvanus Blair, Esq., W. H. Woods, Esq.. M. S. Lytle, Esq., J. W. Mattern, Esq., H. C. Madden, Esq., J. Hall Musser, Esq., S. T. Brown. Esq., R. A. Orbison, Esq., and John Stiles, Esq., of Washington, D. C. A number of these gentlemen have done most excellent service and the party should remember them for it. We are in favor of rewarding those who labor. Our space is so limited that we cannot individualize the meetings.

HOW NOT TO DO IT!

Before the Democratic Convention some friend of Mr. Dewees, who is one of the best men in the State, and true to the interests of Huntingdon county, wrote a communication to the Monitor recommending that gentleman for Assembly, but, no, Mr. Dewees, in the estimation of Mr. Africa and the Monitor clique, was not the man for the place—nobody was fit for it but the latter gentleman, and the Monitor refused to publish the communication.—Now Mr. Dewees is asked to support Mr. Africa! Cool, ain't it?

THE GEN. LANE SLANDERS!

The effort of the Monitor clique to injure Gen. Lane, by the publication of the most unblushing falsehoods, are likely to be productive of much good. There were unfortunately hece then Republicans who felt like complimenting Mr. Africa, but the infamous assault upon our candidate has stopped that little diversion quite short, and Mr. Africa can put all the votes of that kind in his eye. So much for slanders!

☞ Don't cut the ticket—don't trade votes. Be fish, flesh, or red herring. Go the whole pig, or nothing.

STAND BY THE TICKET!

ELECT JOHN DEAN!

THE "GLOBE'S" VIEW OF IT!

The last Globe contains an article, under the head of "President Judge," which we fully endorse. We reproduce a portion of it:

"Previous to the meeting of our County Convention it was generally understood in the Republican ranks throughout the county that both wings of the party would forget the past in the present campaign and vote the ticket, no matter who should be placed in nomination by the delegates in the Convention. The ticket is before the Republican party and there can be no striking down this year without endangering the success of party nominees in the future. It will not do for party men to say that a Judge should not be elected by a party. Both parties have made State and District nominations heretofore, and will again, and it is as much the duty of party men to stick to their nominations for Judge as for any other office. If Republicans, by cutting Dean, could elect any other Republican and better man, there might be some excuse for their treachery, but when it must be clear to every voter that a Republican vote given to Taylor would be only helping to elect the Democratic candidate, common sense will tell them that by voting for Taylor they would be voting to destroy their party organization and party power in the county. John Dean is the Republican nominee, and as such he has a claim upon every Republican voter in the county and district, and every vote cast for any other man for President Judge will be a vote against the party that placed Mr. Dean in nomination."

A GREAT IMPOSITION!

DEMOCRATIC LEGISLATION!

Last Winter a Bill was pushed through the Legislature authorizing the construction of a road from a point in Shirley township across Shade Mountain into Tell township, for the accommodation of a few Democrats in the latter township. To make this road, which is of no earthly use to Shirley, a tax of nine mills has to be laid. This is the way Democrats do things.—Vote for Lane!

MANNER OF VOTING!

The ticket will be voted in three separate slips—one headed "STATE," with the names of Auditor General, Surveyor General and Constitutional Amendment, the second headed "JUDICIARY," with the names of the candidates for President and Associate Judge, and the last headed "COUNTY," which will contain the names of the candidates for Assembly, High Sheriff, Treasurer, Commissioner, Poor Director, County Surveyor, Auditor and Coroner.

Principle Rather than Self!

Republicans, if there is a man in your town or vicinity who has been, or wants to be, prominent in our party, and who is lukewarm or doubtful in his support of the ticket this fall; who says to one person, "stick to the ticket," and to another whispers treason, spot that man! Don't forget him in the future! Very likely he has no relatives on the ticket, or else he has Democratic money in his pocket! Vote and work for the whole ticket!

Catholics Asked to Vote for a Know Nothing!

Mr. Africa was initiated into the Know Nothings on the 25th of July, 1854, and he previously edited the Standing-Stone Banner, in which violent assaults were made upon Catholics and Foreigners, which facts demonstrate his settled convictions, and now, Catholics and Foreigners, you are asked to vote for him. Will you do it? Vote for Lane!

THE JIG'S UP!

The Democracy concede the election of our whole ticket, but in order to make the victory complete it is important that we poll a full vote, and it is the DUTY of every Republican in the county to go to the polls on Tuesday next. Devote the entire day in securing the complete discomfiture of this corrupt and rascally organization. Go for them!

Mr. Africa Wants Complimentary Votes!

We understand that Mr. Africa is sending his "stickers" all over the county, to Republicans, with the request that they give him complimentary votes. We hope that no Republican will be stupid enough to do it. Throw complimentary votes to the dogs! Vote the whole Republican ticket!

Mr. Africa as the Republican Candidate.

We learn that Mr. Africa, in his bland way, has passed himself off to some of our Republican friends as a Republican candidate. It is only with those who do not take the county papers that he has been able to do this. Republicans, carry the war into Africa. Gen. Lane is your candidate.

How Mr. Africa "Does" the Borough.

Mr. Africa is the Engineer of Huntingdon Borough, and he puts in two-thirds of his time "sighting round the corners," at five dollars "a peep." Tax-payers, you have to "pay the piper." How do you like it? No wonder you groan! Vote for Lane!

Lookout for Last Cards!

The Monitor, which is most rascally given to lying, and after the election will eat its own words, as it has done heretofore, will manufacture all the Roorbacks for the last issue that the clique that controls it can concoct. Warn everybody against them—none but the very credulous can be deceived.

☞ Col. Robert B Beath, our candidate for Surveyor General, lost a leg in the service of the United States. Vote for Beath!

J. S. Africa a Know Nothing!

INITIATED JULY 25, 1854!

Foreigners and Catholics How Can You Vote for Him?

He Does not Believe in the Christian Religion!!!

The Record, kept by the Know Nothing Organization of this place, can be seen at the JOURNAL office, wherein it is recorded that J. Simpson Africa was initiated, at the Register's office, in the Court House, on the evening of the 25th of July, 1854. W. S. Hildebrand, Reuben Romig, Simon Coder, and others, were initiated the same evening. Mr. Africa, not having any belief in the Christian Religion, but averring that "he believed in an Overruling Power," was, with considerable difficulty, elected and SWORN IN.

If any one doubts, let him call and examine the record, which will speak for itself. Catholics and Foreigners, how can you vote for a man who, we have no doubt, maintains the views to-day that he did then; at least there is no evidence to the contrary.

☞ Soldiers, vote as you shot!

"The Right Man in the Right Place."

John Dean is one of the most thorough-going, persevering, expeditious, enterprising men in Pennsylvania. There is no lag in him! We know him of old. Whatever he undertakes goes through. He will work up the business of the district in short metre. Vote for an energetic man for Judge! Vote for Dean!

Mr. Africa a Follower of Pythagoras!

Mr. Africa, we learn, is a follower of Pythagoras, and believes in the transmigration of souls. He refuses to eat flesh lest in eating a piece of an ox or a pig he might be eating a piece of the soul of some one of his ancestors. This is a heathen doctrine of Africa!

Vote for Alfred W. Kenyon, the Maimed Soldier!

Alfred W. Kenyon, a WOUNDED SOLDIER, is our candidate for Treasurer, and every friend of the soldier, in the county, should vote for him. Get everybody to vote for an honest man and a good Republican. Vote for Kenyon!

Houck Among his Neighbors!

Read the card of the citizens of Broad Top City in reply to the "rum" lie of the Monitor. Houck never sold as much "rum" in his life as would make the editor of the Monitor drunk. Read the card, and then vote for Houck, and ask everybody to do likewise!

Wallace Sends $2000 to Beat Gen. Lane!

The Monitor clique, we are credibly informed, have received TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS to use to secure the defeat of Gen. Lane. Republicans, see that none of our friends are demoralized. Stand firm!

☞ Watch the polls!

Beware of Spurious Tickets!

Examine every ticket before voting, and if you find any Republican giving out spurious tickets, let us know, and we WILL SETTLE HIS POLITICAL ASPIRATIONS HEREAFTER.

The Boot on the Other Leg!

It is said that the gentleman who went to Harrisburg to write up Gen. Lane a Defaulter and Embezzler "has been there himself." We publish the above against the earnest protest of Gen. Lane, who is a gentleman.

Vote for Jonathan Evans!

He is a true representative of the people who pay our taxes; honest, capable, and efficient. Vote for him, if you desire the county affairs properly conducted for the next three years!

Look to the Alms-House!

Harris Richardson will see that the affairs of this institution will be conducted to the satisfaction of the people. He is a clever fellow, and will make a most efficient officer. Vote for Richardson!

If You Want an Efficient County Surveyor,

Vote for Henry Wilson. He has no opposition and is sure to be elected. See that he runs up with the ticket. Vote for Wilson!

Vote for Samuel P. Smith,

Our candidate for Auditor. He is an excellent man, and will see that the accounts are faithfully overhauled annually. Vote for Smith!

☞ Work for the whole ticket!

APPOINT COMMITTEES

In every election district in the county, whose duty it shall be to watch the windows and see that no illegal votes are polled, and that every Republican votes on Tuesday next!

GO TO THE POLLS

Early, and stay all day. Talk, work and vote for the whole ticket. See that your neighbor goes to the election and that he votes right!

GET OUT YOUR TEAMS

To haul sick and infirm voters to the polls on Tuesday next. This is very important, and should be attended to. Get out every Republican in the county!

RAIN OR SHINE,

Go to the polls on Tuesday next, take your neighbor with you, vote the whole Republican ticket, see that he does likewise, and we will achieve a glorious triumph over the coffee-pot Democracy. Do your duty, Republicans, on Tuesday next!

☞ The character of our candidate for Auditor General is above imputation. Vote for Stanton!

Dean Sure to be Elected!

THE GAME UP!

BANKS REFUSES TO WITHDRAW!

TAYLOR REFUSES TO WITHDRAW!

"AIN'T I THE STRONGEST MAN?"

"Can't I Get More Republican Votes?"

Yes, so it goes! Banks says he is sure of more votes than Taylor, and Taylor is sure he can get more Republican votes than Banks, and the unhappy Democratic party is in the dilemma of the young fellow who was confronted by two sweethearts, and who, in the sincerity of his soul groaned: "Oh, how happy I could be with either, were the other dear charmer away!"

☞ Examine every ticket!

GENERAL M'CANDLESS

Is called "General" because while the fighting was going on in the Wilderness, and almost in the light of burning Chambersburg, he wrote to the Secretary of War, declaring that no man could honorably serve in the Union army, and declining to be a General in it. Therefore, soldiers, vote for General Bill M'Candless!

After this effort of self-sacrificing devotion to rebellion, General M'Candless rushed bravely into the whiskey business in Philadelphia. His legitimate profits were not sufficient for his wants, and his distillery was accordingly seized by the Government for illicit distillation. It was here that he acquired that knowledge of Government accounts which peculiarly qualifies him to be Auditor General of Pennsylvania, in the judgment of the temperance party. Therefore, temperance men, vote for Spangler, and elect that staunch, temperance man, William M'Candless.

A bill was introduced in the Legislature during the term of Wm M'Candless as Senator, which provided for the establishment of a cattle yard at Philadelphia, in the absolute possession of a close corporation of a half dozen individuals, through which every pound of beef consumed in Philadelphia should pass and be inspected. Its effect was to pass an enormous tax upon drovers, and to raise the price of beef upon consumers. It is known as the "Infamous" Cattle Bill. In the Senate its champion orator was William M'Candless. Whereupon all drovers and all consumers should vote for Cattle Bill M'Candless,

When the Free Railroad bill was making its last struggle in the Pennsylvania Legislature, General M'Candless was in the Senate and voted constantly and consistently with its opponents. Whenever an issue was raised between the public and their creature corporations, his voice and vote were for the corporations. Wherefore the western advocates of a Free Railroad law are expected to vote for Railroad Bill M'Candless.

When the Connellsville railroad was being strangled by its great competitor, Gen. M'Candless was in the Senate, and was eager and active in his endeavors for its destruction. None so willing as he to drive the very last nail into its coffin. Therefore, the merchants of Pittsburgh and the people of the west are expected to vote solidly and enthusiastically for Connellsville Bill M'Candless.

Vote for GENERAL Bill M'Candless.
DEFAULTER Bill M'Candless.
CATTLE BILL M'Candless.
RAILROAD BILL M'Candless.
CONNELLSVILLE BILL M'Candless.

Or, if you can't do this, for God's sake give a vote to Spangler. Then the Soldiers, and the Temperance men, and the Working man and the consumers of Philadelphia beef, and the friends of a Free Railroad, and of the Connellsville enterprise, will have an Auditor General upon whom they can rely, and the country will be safe.—Beaver Radical.

JESS SO.

Not many years ago Judge Taylor severely reprimanded a gentleman of Tyrone, then a resident of Huntingdon, for proposing to vote for a Democratic candidate. Said the Judge;

"Mr. ———, you never should split " your ticket, especially on important offices. " No party is safe unless it can depend up- " on its members. You slaughter your reg- " ular nominees, and I wouldn't give a pic- " ayune for a party. No sir, STICK TO " YOUR TICKET ALWAYS. Therein " lies the safety of the Republican party."

Should we attempt it, we should fail in giving Republicans better advice than that given by Judge Taylor. "Therein lies the safety of the Republican party." As true as the needle to the pole. "No party is safe," etc. Every honest party man feels that to be true. "Stick to your ticket." Yes, STICK! Remember the Judge's charge, delivered when he was personally disinterested, and teach political malcontents, vipers, guerrillas, bolters, gamblers and barnacles that with you Republicanism means the TICKET.—Tyrone Herald.

Vote Early!

And then see that your neighbors go out and vote all right. Examine every ticket before voting! Vote early! Once will be sufficient!

Vote for Judge Clarkson!

He is a man of integrity and experience, and the regular nominee of the party. See that he receives every Republican vote. Vote for Clarkson!

Don't Vote against Principles!

Every Republican who votes against Gen. Lane votes to make a Democratic Congressional district and paves the way for a Democratic United States Senator.

What a Vote for Africa Is!

It is a vote for a Democratic Congressional District, virtually a vote for a Democratic United States Senator, and a vote for a man who will vote against every Republican measure. Vote for Lane!

☞ If you want an honest, upright man in the Auditor General's office for the next three years, vote for Stanton!

☞ Vote the ticket clean!

A HIGH OLD DRUNK.

One of the BANKS of the Democracy Refuses to Cave!

A DEMOCRATIC CONCLAVE!

BANKS WON'T WITHDRAW!

"Nothing but a Miracle can Save Him!"

On last Tuesday afternoon a report was rapidly spread amongst the people of the town, that the leading Democratic politicians of this Judicial District were to assemble at the Exchange Hotel, in this place, that evening, for the purpose of inducing Mr. Banks to withdraw. Considerable interest was felt in regard to the matter in Republican circles, however nothing definite was ascertained until Wednesday morning, when our reporter, who had hung upon the skirts of the affair, informed us that after a muddled exchange of opinions, in which one of the party said that "nothing but a miracle could save him" (Banks) and our "oily gammon" Congressman, in the blandest manner, assured the assembly that "the Democratic party could not be controlled in his favor here," it was no go. Banks had determined to "stick." After this the whole party, with a few exceptions, imbibed freely, and the drunker they got the better Banks men they became. What a confession of weakness. Republicans, work and vote for Dean!

President Judge.

From all quarters of the District we have the most cheering news. Persons who have heretofore been for Taylor, many of them his warm personal friends, seeing that there is no chance for his election, and that every vote for Taylor counts half a vote for Banks, are dropping him, and express themselves as heartily in favor of Mr. Dean, and the whole regular Republican ticket. Particularly is this the case in Huntingdon county. Our friends there now claim that Mr. Dean will carry that county by a majority of not less than from six to eight hundred. The feeling has not been so good in that county for the past three years—all differences are healed—and both parties are fighting manfully for the whole ticket, and both Republican papers are warmly and effectively supporting Mr. Dean.

In Cambria the out-look is excellent for our popular and talented candidate, Mr. Dean, and our friends there are confidently expecting to bring down the majority in that county considerably, and many actually expect to give him a majority.

In Blair, Mr. Dean is gaining strength every day—the Taylor men are growing fewer and fewer—until we can confidently predict he will not get two hundred votes in the county, of all parties; and very many Democrats who desire to see a talented and energetic lawyer on the bench in this district, will vote for him. His majority in Blair will be large—this we assure our friends in the other counties—all we desire is for them to do their duty, which we have every assurance they will—we will do ours.

John Dean, Esq., has always been a leading, active Republican, is one of the best lawyers in the State, and will make a fair, impartial, and expeditious Judge, and Blair county voters, of every shade of party, should consider it their duty to help to elevate him to a position which he will adorn and upon which he will reflect honor. Free and untrammelled citizens, do your part in the contest, and all will be well.—Hol. Register.

AMON HOUCK,

Our candidate for High Sheriff, was a brave soldier, and lost his RIGHT ARM in the service of his country, and besides all this, he is a POOR MAN! His opponent cursed the Abolitionists, OPPOSED THE SOLDIERS, and he is well provided with this world's goods! Vote for the ONE-ARMED soldier, Amon Houck!

☞ Don't scratch a name!

Energy, Perseverance and Go-aheadativeness!

These are the characteristics of John Dean. He will push up the old cases, and get rid of the accumulations of years. Vote for Dean, and see that your neighbor also does!

Vote for Lane!

Every Republican vote in the county should be polled for Gen. Lane. In his case it is a matter of principle, not of men. Vote for Lane!

Soldiers, Vote as You Shot!

Every consistent Soldier should vote for their old comrades in arms, Stanton and Beath.

If You Vote for Africa

You vote for an old Know Nothing, a nonbeliever in the present Christian Religion, a bitter Rebel during the war, and a violent Democrat. Can you swallow all this?

Tickets! Tickets!!

The Republican Tickets are in the hands of the Chairman of the County Committee ready for distribution.

Vote the Whole Ticket!

Let every Republican vote the whole ticket, from top to bottom, and all will be well.

Watch the Doubtful!

Keep a strict watch for those who are in the habit of voting promiscuously. A word in time may make a vote.

Don't be Gulled!

Don't believe any stories gotten up on the eve of the election by the Monitor clique. They manufacture lies to order.

VOTE FOR JAMES BRICKER!

He is running for no trifling office. The Coroner's office may become one of the most important in the county. Vote for Bricker!

☞ Col. David Stanton, who heads our ticket, is a man of honesty and integrity. Vote for Stanton!

esty, Temperance and Democracy.

. Editor.—We are informed that there ill, in the "upper end" of the county, a Republicans, who, believing Mr. Amon k, our candidate for Sheriff, to be an inerate man, intend to cut him, and to vote s Democratic opponent. A card has been shed in the Monitor certifying to Mr. erson's sobriety; and I understand that Democracy generally, throughout the y, are trying to make political capital for enderson on this plea, coupled with the hat Mr. Houck, his opponent, "has sold ades of Bacchus! A Democrat preaching erance!! The party universally known cknowledged as the Whiskey Party,—the which is invariably strongest where shops are most abundant,—the party ı, in our State Senate, last winter, de-l the Local Option Bill,—the only party ı is acknowledged and supported by the ›ers of the powerful Whiskey Ring;—to the members of such a party asking suf for one of their candidates because he is erance man! O, tempores! O, mores!

Mr. Henderson is a temperance man, why he remain in affiliation with such a party? sked the same question with regard to e Banks, when we heard him soliciting from Temperance Republicans on the being a temperance man himself, he d, if successful in his present aspirations, grant license, to sell intoxicating drinks, ›se applicants whom he deemed worthy.

re we might recall a story which is very to the point. Away down in Berks y, a Democratic orator was harranguing wd of white citizens on the important s then before the people,—"the nigger the taxes," probably,—when a sudden er came up. It had been a dry season, he rain was much needed. When the al drops began to fall, the people composıe august assembly evinced a disposition eak for shelter, it being an open air meet-"Don't be alarmed;" said the orator d your ground like men." This rain is just we have been wanting. Rain makes the grow; corn makes whiskey; and whiskey s Democrats.

e Democratic gentlemen named are sober, antial men. But their political princi-ıre too much at variance with there moral iples. If they desire the votes of Temıce men, they should come out from the y's camp. If whiskey makes Democrats, ›o the interest of every zealous member of party to use his utmost endeavors to ine the sale and consumption of that necesırticle of—shall we call it political econ-! and, as far as our experience will alıs to determine, the efforts of the Demo-party in that direction—i. e., the con-›tion of whiskey have been, and are being ned with illustrious success. The intelt Republican voters of our county will not ılled into voting for Democratic candi-by such a shallow plea.

t Mr. Houck is also a sober, temperate and a good citizen. The only fault that ›e brought against him, is, that "he sold If there is a man on the face of the ı who may be excused for such a fault it ›ne-armed soldier.

. Houck served as a private soldier in the war, for the suppression of the Democrat-›bellion. He was a member of the 84th . Penna. Vol. He was in the battles of Wilderness, Spottsylvania C. H., Cold ·or, around Petersburg, &c., and lost his arm at the battle of Deep Bottom, Va., 16, 1864. He bore the reputation of a e and efficient soldier.

hat a debt of gratitude we all owe to the ers who marched in defence of our flag in war. The privations of food and of comthey suffered, the fatigues they endured, the perils they braved can only be comended by those who have served in a ›aign. Those who remained by their own ides, far from the turmoil and strife cancontemplate in imagination anything l to the full extent of the toils, privations dangers experienced by our brave soldiers ıat great war.

any thousand of these now lie in unknown es, far away from their childhood's happy es, with never a friendly hand to plant a er over their lonely graves. Many thous-there received the seeds of mortal disease, returned to their homes, hopeless invalids, nger, in suffering, for a few weeks, or ths, or years, on the borders of the shadaud and to fill untimely graves. Many ısands have come home to us, maimed for and unable to perform the manual labor ıssary to procure them a sustenance.

ıall we then, whose liberty and national tence, have been saved by their deeds and erings,—shall we turn away from one of nations maimed defenders because he has e ONE wrong? If ye forgive not, &c.—unotherwise to procure a sustenance. Mr. ck DID sell ale. But such a business was in accordance with his tastes and princi-; and, as soon as there was a prospect of securing a livelihood in any other way, he ıdiated it. As for himself, he does not take of intoxicating drinks; and from dhood he has never been seen under their cts. That the majority of the people of ıtingdon county place confidence in him be amply demonstrated on the second sday of October.

Ve may be allowed also to refer to the kwashed report and dastardly attack upon candidate for Assembly contained in the itor of Sept. 19. This is only another inıce of Democratic meanness and duplicity. have yet to learn of anything too low or ın for a Democrat to resort to in order to ıre votes for his party candidates. We not here refer to the charges in detail. ı. Lane is able to take care of himself! and character and past record will be fully dicated.

n the same paper, Tax-Payer dilates upon importance of being represented in the te Legislature by an honest man. Here ·in, a member of the Democratic party talkabout honesty! O, consistency, thou art ›wel, seldom discoverable in man, and never Democracy.

Vas it the Republican party, or any members t, that, in 1860, had ruined the credit of nation, made the Treasury bankrupt, ıttered our navy to the four quarters of the rld and sent all our arms to Southern arsels, that the late Rebels might be the better e to rear a Slaveholder's Confederacy on ruins of our Great Republic? (But we get; the Democrats WERE honest (?) ONCE. ey thought it better to let the Rebels preil, than that anything should be done to apse them, not strictly enjoined by the Contution. And then, when we proposed to ıend that Constitution a little, they voted ıinst it. It were sacrilege to meddle with ıt ancient instrument). Were there Repubın Legislatures in those Southern States ıich repudiated their debts? (But they ıre honorable men—no doubt). Is the New ›rk City Ring composed of Republicans? Is ere a Republican majority in that excellent y? Does the Republican party swarm with peaters and ballot box stuffers? Is it to ıke Republican votes that foreigners are natalized as soon as they land on our shores? d ever a Republican prothonotary sign and nd out blank naturalization papers? And ıs ever the Chairman of a Republican State ›mmittee accused of carrying a coffee-pot ith him?

But our honest Tax-Payer wants to send an nest African—(Hail New Departure!)—to ır State Legislature, that he may help to nd an Honest Coffee-Pot to the U. S. Senate, ere to encourage the HONEST members of the u Klux Klan to intimidate all Republicans, ack and white in the South, and prevent ıeir voting; so that an honest (?) Democrat ay again occupy the White House, again ake our Treasury bankrupt, again scatter ır fleets to the uttermost parts of the earth ıd our armies to the distant plains, and again ıcourage the gallant soldiers of the defunct . S. A. to attempt our subjugation. All this ıight result from voting for HONEST Simpson frica. Then would the cry of Tax Payer be Let us have Honesty."

Wonder if any Tax-Payer in Blair county ıs accounted the honorable deeds of Bill Baily, emocratic candidate for Assembly in that ounty,—especially his valiant war record, as regimental commissary and quarter-master. Every soldier, who served in the late war, nows that the quartermasters were all honest ıen. Will not the honorable gentleman, who vrites editorials for the Monitor, gives us some ccount of the War Record of General Lane; ıd in parallel columns gives the records of Bill Baily and Simpson Africa together with his ›wn glorious share in that war? A little statenent as to how much property each one acumulated during those speculative times night also be very interesting reading.

Ho! for March's!—Wm. March has ust returned from Philadelphia with one of the most splendid assortment of goods ever brought to the town. He knows how to please the people. If you want the latest styles, they have them. Read their advertisements.

We notice by the Johnstown Tribune, that the enterprising firm of Messrs. W. H. Rossensteel & Son, of Mount Union, have purchased grounds at Johnstown, for the purpose of erecting a large Steam Tannery, at an early day. This firm came to our county a few years ago, having a keen oposition to contend with in business, but by industry, strict attention and their combined skill they have not only been successful in business, and making friends, but may be proud of their enviable expectation they have received with our eastern leather men. We have no doubt they will meet with like success in their new place of business.

One of our Citizens Abroad.—We clip the following complimentary notice of a speech, made at the reunion of the 149th Regment of New York Volunteers, at Skaneatles, N. Y., by Mr. David Blair, of this place, from the Onandaga Standard:

> "Hon. David Blair, of Pennsylvania, responded to repeated calls, and made a very interesting speech, alluding to the former Division Commander, General Geary, with whom Mr. Blair is on terms of friendship and intimacy. The allusions to General Geary were received with cheers."

Burlington.—Leaving the East and arriving at Chicago or Indianapolis, how shall we reach the West? The best Line is acknowledged to be the C. B. & Q., joined together with the B. & M. Railroad by the Iron Bridge at Burlington, and called the Burlington Route.

The main line of the Route running to Omaha, connects with the great Pacific Roads, and forms to-day the leading route to California. The Middle Branch, entering Nebraska at Plattsmouth, passes through Lincoln, the State Capital, and will this year be finished to Fort Kearney, forming the shortest route across the Continent by over 100 miles.

Another branch of the B. M., diverging at Red Oak, falls into a line running down the Missouri through St. Joe to Kansas City, and all Kansas. Passengers by this route to Kansas, see Illinois, Southern Iowa, and Missouri, and, by a slight divergence, can see Nebraska also.

Lovers of fine views should remember the Burlington Route, for its towns "high gleaming from afar"—its tree-fringed streams—its rough bluffs and quarries—its corn-oceans stretching over the prairies further than eye can reach.

Land-buyers will be sure to remember it, for they have friends among the two thousand who have already bought farms from Geo. S. Harris, the Land Comissioner of the B. & M. R. R. at Burlington, Iowa, or among the four thousand home-steaders and pre-emptors who last year filed claims in the Lincoln land office, where "Uncle Sam is rich enough to give us all a farm."

THE LAST CARD OF THE DEMOCRACY!

AFRICA MUST BE ELECTED TO CARRY THE LEGISLATURE!

THE REPUBLICANS EXPECTED TO ELECT HIM!

JUDGE TAYLOR WILL NOT RECEIVE 2,000 VOTES!

A Democratic Vote for Taylor is a Vote for Dean!

A Republican Vote for Taylor is a Vote for Banks!

The following card is extensively circulated, privately, among the Democracy. We had it sent to us, by a friend, from the lower end of the county whither it had been sent to one of the faithful, and we lay it before our readers to show them how the Democrats regard the contest. It will be observed that every effort is being made to elect Africa. The Democracy are informed in it of the importance of his election and what is to be accomplished by it. Republicans, you see how the matter stands! If Mr. Africa is elected you prove recreant to your principles and elect him. Are you going to do it? We beg of you to stand by Gen. Lane! This card settles the question as to whether there is any chance for Judge Taylor. He is simply out of the question. Read the card and defeat its objects:

PRIVATE.

Mill Creek, Pa., Sept. 30, 1871.

Dear Sir:

I address you in a few earnest words in reference to the approaching election.

1st. It is vitally important for us to have control of the next Legislature. If we do not get a repeal of the infamous registry law we may lose Pennsylvania in 1872, and thus lose the next President, and the fact that the State will be re-districted for Congress next session affords an additional reason for hard work on the part of every Democrat to secure the election of Mr. Africa. He is an honest man---has experience in Legislation, and is in every way infinitely superior to the Republican candidate. I appeal to you to have out every Democrat in the township. See the careless and provide a conveyance for the sick and old.

2d. If Democrats do their duty we will elect our candidate for President Judge---Thaddeus Banks, Esq. He is a lawyer of ability, a man of pure character, a reliable Democrat. He is worthy of our undivided support and he should get it. He was fairly and unanimously nominated, is honest and capable, and there is no good reason why he should not receive every Democratic vote in the District. Here and there a Democrat may be found who says he will vote for Judge Taylor, but this is folly. The contest is beteen Banks and Dean, and every Democratic vote that Taylor gets is half a vote for Dean. Taylor will not run 2000 votes in the District from both parties, and there will be 18,000 votes cast. It is useless and worse than useless for any Democrat to throw his vote away on Taylor, for, by doing so he takes a vote from Banks and thus helps Dean. This is our conviction, and the conviction of all well informed Democrats in the District---Judge Taylor has no shadow of a chance---his own friends know he has none, and in private conversation they admit it.

John Dean and Judge Taylor are both Republicans---one the nominee of the party and the other says, in his published letters, that he has his political convictions and does not propose to change them. In other words, he is a Republican, and as such he has no claims upon our party. He and Dean have a fight in their party; now, why should not Democrats act wisely, stand together and elect our candidate? Let the Republicans vote for Taylor---the more the better; for as sure as they divide their vote between him and Dean, Banks will be the Judge, if Democrats do their duty. Dean and his friends are urging Democrats to vote for Taylor, well knowing that every Democratic vote for Taylor counts half a vote for Dean.

I appeal to yon to get every Democrat to the polls, and see that the united strength of the party be given to Banks, Africa, and the whole ticket. Then we will rejoice together over a great victory.

Respectfully, B. R. FOUST,
Chm. Dem. Co. Com.

ORPHANS' COURT SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

[Estate of Samuel Sprankle, deceased.]

By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court, of Huntingdon county, we will expose to public sale, on the premises,

On Friday, the 27th day of October, 1871, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, the following described FARM in Porter Township: bounded by lands of John Scott, Dr. D. Houtz, George Whittaker, and by the Juniata River, having thereon erected a house, barn, and other buildings, containing 144 ACRES, more or less, about one hundred of which are cleared and in a good state of cultivation, the balance in timber. The farm is good limestone land, well watered, and pleasantly located, one mile south of Alexandria.

PURIFY YOUR BLOOD.

DR. CROOK'S COMPOUND
SYRUP OF POKE ROOT

Wherever Poke Root grows, it has a local reputation as a Blood Purifier, and for the cure of Rheumatism. With all this local reputation, and the praise of distinguished Physicians, (Drs. Coe, Lee, King, Wilson, M. Hunt, Griffits, Copland and others,) who have tested its medical powers; it has been neglected by the profession at large, as much through a want of a proper appreciation of its merits, as a knowledge of the proper way to prepare it for medicinal use. Dr Oliver Crook, (a physician who devotes his entire time to the duties of his profession), has fully tested the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root during the last 25 years, and unhesitatingly pronounces it to have MORE MERIT—for diseases depending on a depraved condition of the blood,—than any and all other articles named in the Materia Medica. Under his instructions our Chemists have combined the active medicinal qualities of Poke Root with the best Tonic Preparation of Iron, and we offer this preparation to the public under the above name.

Farm and Household.

The Farmer's Daughter.

Kneeling by the stream, I saw
  Kate, the farmer's daughter,
Drinking—in her rosy palm
  Dipping up the water.

She had thrown her hat aside,
  Bare were arms and shoulder;
Each unconscious charm displayed,
  Made my love the bolder.

So I slowly, tenderly,
  Went and knelt beside her,
Drank with her from out the stream,
  Blushing Kitty Ryder.

And I said: "The poet tells us.
  Life is like a river;
Shall we not its waters sweet
  Always drink together?"

Many years have passed us by,
  Like the flowing waters;
But I drink Life's stream to-day
  With Kate, the farmer's daughter.

Vinegar Making.

Vinegar is produced by the transformation of alcohol to acetic acid. The alcoholic mixture must not be too strong. else the transformation is retarded, or too weak, else it will putrefy. The higher the temperature and the greater the quantity of air brought in a given time in contact with the cider or other alcoholic mixture, the quicker is its transformation to vinegar. If, however, the tempreature is above 100 degrees, alcohol is wasted by evaporation. Nearly all the vinegar sold in the markets is made by what is known as the quick process, but as this method requires considerable experience and some expensive apparatus, it is not adapted to household manufacture. By this process cider or other alcoholic mixtures are converted into good vinegar in from three to ten hours, which it must drip through twenty feet of wood shavings, corn-cobs, stems of grapes or other similar substances, and a constant draught of heated air passing through the shavings, keeping up a fermentation and coming in contact with every drop of the mixture, completely changes the alcohol to acetic acid, and the more ferment present the quicker is the vinegar made or the souring process completed. For family use one barrel is usually enough for a year. When cider is made it is easy to have pure, healthful vinegar, but even then it is not always to be found. It should be borne in mind that air, heat and fermentation are necessary to acetification. If you have vinegar at cider-making time and fill the cask with new cider and leave the bung open, the new cider will produce the ferment and the old vinegar will change the whole in six weeks by keeping moderately warm. If no old vinegar is at hand to start with, add ten gallons of pure rain or river water to thirty gallons of cider, put in a cask painted black and let it stand in the sun with the bung hole open or only closed by a patch of canvass tacked over it to keep out insects. To make from common whisky add it to pure soft water in the proportion of one pint of whisky to one gallon of hot water, which should be poured while hot into a barrel to ferment. There should be a cask also for storage, and every two or three weeks, or as needed, a few gallons may be drawn out and added to the generating or fermenting barrel. Sorghum syrup or molasses may be used in place of the whisky if desired.

Storing Potatoes.

As the time has arrived for potatoes—the earlier sorts—to be harvested, I wish to say to those who have them to harvest, to put them in barrels as the best mode of disposing of them. There are those who have tried this way for years, and cannot be persuaded to keep their potatoes in any other way. Dig and expose to the air till dry; then put up as directed, taking the barrels to the field. Store in the cellar, any part most convenient. The advantage is that the air is not exposed, as with open bins, which often vitiate it, and always leave a potato odor. You have nothing of this. Another advantage: you can put where most convenient, and more at pleasure, with little difficulty, and you may place tier upon tier of barrels till up to the floor. When it is wished to use any, a barrel is opened and used, and so on with the rest, leaving no dirt, the ground remaining in the barrel. Or, if wished to sell, they are already put up. Any barrel will do, so that it is strong enough—a salt barrel is as good as any. F. G., in Country Gentleman.

Keep a Memorandum Book.

Carry it always with you, and immediately any idea crosses your mind which you wish to retain, enter it. Enter little jobs that have to be done, a piece of fence to be put up, an implement required, when horse food will be finished, who has certain seed that you are wanting in a week or two, and all those innumerable little thoughts of something that must be done, which cross the brain at odd times, and which, when a slack day or hour arrives, cannot be thought of. The intelligent store-keeper never trusts his memory for the remembrance of what stock he must renew when goes to the wholesale houses, and the intelligent farmer would do well in this matter if he committed to paper these limitless little requirements which it is impossible to keep floating on the surface of the memory.—Iowa Homestead.

APPLE JAM.—The apples, which should be ripe and of the best eating sort, being pared and quartered, are put into a pan with just water enough to cover them, and boiled until they can be reduced to a mash. Then for each pound of the pared apples a pound of sifted sugar is added, being sprinkled over the boiling mixture. Boil and stir it well until reduced to a jam. Then put into pots. The above is the most simple way of making it; but to have it of the best possible clearness, make a thick sirup with three pounds of sugar to each pint of water, and clarify it with an egg. Then add one pint of this sirup for every three pounds of apples, and boil the jam to a proper thickness.

YOUR field may be "furrowed with care," but it cannot be "harrowed by the recollection."

WHEN you find the larks-pur in the country it may be safe to judge the cattle go to the fields.

THE AMERICAN WASHER!

PRICE, $5 50.

The American Washer Saves Money, Time, and Drudgery.

The Fatigue of Washing Day no longer Dreaded, but Economy, Efficiency, and Clean Clothing, Sure.

In calling public attention to this little machine, a few of the invaluable qualities, (not possessed by any other washing machine yet invented,) are here enumerated.

It is the smallest, most compact, most portable, most simple in construction, most easily operated. A child ten years old, with a few hours' practice, can thoroughly comprehend and effectually use it. There is no adjusting, no screws to annoy, no delay in adapting! It is always ready for use! It is a perfect little wonder! It is a miniature giant, doing more work and of a better quality, than the most elaborate and costly. One half of the labor is fully saved by its use, and the clothes will last one-half longer than by the old plan of the rub board. It will wash the largest blanket. Three shirts at a time, washing thoroughly! In a word, the ablution of any fabric, from a Quilt to a Lace Curtain or Cambric Handkerchief, are equally within the capacity of this Little Gem! It can be fastened to any tub and taken off at will.

No matter how deep rooted a prejudice may exist against Washing Machines, the moment this little machine is seen to perform its wonders, all doubts of its cleansing efficacy and utility are banished, and the doubter and detractor at once become the fast friends of the machine.

We have testimonials without end, setting forth its numerous advantages over all others, and from hundreds who have thrown aside the unwidely, useless machines, which have signally failed to accomplish the object promised in prominent and loud-sounding advertisements.

It is as perfect for washing as a wringer is for wringing. The price is another paramount inducement to purchasers, has been placed so low that it is within the reach of every housekeeper, and there is no article of domestic economy that will repay the small investment so soon.

All that is asked for this Great Labor Saver, is a fair trial. We guarantee each machine to do its work perfectly.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE F
1871.

Through struggle and suffering, at th

American Idea embodied in the preamble to our fa
Declaration of Independence approaches its comple alization. The noble, inspiring assertion that "all me created equal," and endowed by their Creator with in able rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happin no longer a glittering generality, a poet's fancy, a pl opher's speculation, but the recognized base of our p cal fabric. The benign Revolution, which dates fro Boston Massacre of 1770, finds its logical completion one century later, in the XVth Amendment, which to the equal political and civil rights of every man bo naturalized in our Republic the shield and defense c Federal Constitution. The billows of Caste and Priv may roar and rage around that rock, and may transi seem on the point of washing it away; but its founda are deep laid and steadfast, and the breakers of Rea and Slavery are hurled against and dash their spray t in vain.

We do not underrate the forces of Prejudice and Ar racy. We do not forget that a very large minoriy c
American People still hold in their inmost hearts

We fully appreciate the desperation wherewith all th ring elements of hatred to Republican achievement w combined and hurled against the battlements of Re cesses, facilitated by Republican feuds and dissension inspire the charging host with a sanguine hope of vic such as nerved it to put forth its utmost strength i earlier stages of the contests of 1864 and 1868. Ye faith is clear and strong that the American Peopl

War, the Union was upheld and Slavery destroyed, will never consciously decide that the precious blood on poured out was lavished in vain.

THE TRIBUNE believes in the prosecution of the struggle by legitimate means to beneficent ends. To Sovereignty, it opposes indissoluble National Integri Slavery for Blacks, Liberty for All; to Proscriptio franchisement; to Popular Ignorance, Universal E

and invincible Good Will. It would fain do it utm

Profoundly do we realized that the contest is n ended—that Millions mourn, more or less publicl downfall of the Slaveholders' Confederacy, and rear children to hate those by whose valor and constan

THE TRIBUNE has been, is, and must be, a zealous idleness as the greatest foe to human progress, the b human happiness, we seek to win our countrym masses from the ensnaring lures of Speculation, of T and of always overcrowded Professions, to the tr paths of Productive Industry. We would gladly d our overcrowded cities, where thousands vainly jost crowd in misguided quest of "Something to Do" to prairies and plains with colonies absorbed in Agric Mechanics and Manufactures, and constantly pro into the blank, void wilderness the homes and the
